

NO ONE ELSE WILL COME OUT TONIGHT

she set up the stage when I passed by through the shady backroads of this abandoned town I wondered what she would sound like when I stepped in all the lights were dim and all the places free the owner looked up and sighed 'finally'

what is it like to sing a song to no one

after she tuned her guitar and checked the volume of the amp she took a seat right across the bar and ordered her second drink she whispered 'thanks for coming'
I didn't tell her I was there by chance, but asked her

what is it like to sing a song to no one
SHE SAID: I FEEL THE SAME ANYWAY
IT FEELS LIKE THE WHOLE WORLD IS LISTENING COS THIS IS MY RNR DREAM I KEEP SINGING MY SONGS

she finished her drink then took the stage the owner shouted from behind the bar
'don't you want to wait until more people are here ?'
she looked him straight into the eyes, and said:
'no one else will come out tonight'
and she started to sing just for me
